Note from the Pastor

Today is May 5th. Cinco de Mayo. On this date Napoleon died. Kierkegaard and Karl Marx were born as well as two others I wish to publically remember today.

In addition to having face blindness and a terrible time with names (I look in the mirror every morning and say to myself, "Who's that?"), I can't remember anniversaries and birthdays to save my life. I am quite sure it's a "guy thing" and while I may be pretty good at being present to the present moment, as soon as it's past, it's past.

So today I would like to make amends. Today I remember two birthdays that I forget absolutely every year. And I want to publically remember them not because they are big and important people in the eyes of the world, but because they are very big and important people in the eyes of God and to all whose lives they have touched. So today, I salute and honor Sister Janet Tucci, O.S.F. (a Joliet Franciscan Sister) and Andrea Knudsen (my housemate Butch's wife). Happy Birthday! God danced on the day you were born and He is dancing with you still.

I first met Sister Janet in 1976 when I was a boy-priest at Sacred Heart in Hopkins Park. Ten years my senior, Sister came out to the mission to make a day of recollection after having just finished being principal of a poor, black, Catholic grade school in Birmingham, AL. She was between assignments and was taking a spiritual breather. Breathing the air of the precious people of Hopkins Park, it wasn't long before she found a new home among us.

Within a few weeks, joined by a Sister companion, she moved in with our three octogenarian nuns to our newly renovated convent. Her new ministry? Being there.

It took me less than three months to discover that for all of my own personal gifts and talents I was utterly useless among the poor. It was then that I realized that if we were going to make a transformative difference in the lives of the people we were called to serve it would have to be one not of complex organization but of presence. Being present and available to our people became our ministry and daily the Lord would show us what to do. And Sister Janet did it so beautifully.

Emerson once wrote, "Who you are speaks so loudly that I can't hear a word you are saying." Sister Janet is a deep and profound woman of God. She incarnates the Christ and whether she was helping the children with their math problems, counseling their parents or bringing food to the hungry, it was the Christ in her who was evident to all she touched. And in her ministry today to the old sisters at their retirement home (not that she's a spring chicken herself), she's doing it still, the presence of Christ shines through her.

* * * * *

I first met Andrea Knudsen while pastoring in the early 90's at St. Teresa in Kankakee. Andrea's daughter, Hillary, was in our grade school and I had made contact with her husband, Butch, to make sure he was coming to church. He was. She couldn't. She was bed-ridden.

For the past 22 or so years, Andrea has never left her bed. Of all the horrible and forgotten diseases, Multiple Sclerosis should be at the very top of the list. It debilitates you by millimeters and is utterly relentless. By the time I met Andrea, she was already confined to her bed. A cradle Catholic to the core (she knows more Latin than I do) she had been away from the Church for a number of years because nobody went to see her. Finally I did. And what a revelation.

I quickly discovered that I was going to visit her not so much to just hear her confession and bring her Communion, but to simply hear her. No sooner did I let myself into her old mobile home than I heard the sardonic cries of "Oh God, it's you again! When are they going to send me a real priest?" One day I tried to do just that and brought along Bishop Kaffer dressed in his full episcopal regalia. With mitre on head and crozier in hand, in we walked and were greeted by, "It's not Halloween! What is this trick-or-treat? It's not a bad costume though." Now it was the bishop's turn to be speechless.

On and off now for 22 years I have visited Andrea bringing her peace offerings of cream cheese, lox and bagels, and from time to time smoked oysters. The greetings never waiver and I love it! The most amazing thing about Andrea is that even though she has been bed-ridden for all these years, I have never once sensed an ounce of self-pity or complaint. This is the lot in life she has, and she lives it. (I think Butch does the complaining for the both of them.) And her faith has never wavered. She truly knows the Lord and while she does not wear Him on her sleeve, it is obvious that He dwells in her.

And so, today I remember. Not the rich or the famous. Not the great saints. But the everyday ones. The ones who live with us. The ones around us. God's holy ones. Sister Janet, Andrea, Happy Birthday!

In Jesus, Our Birth Brother,

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION NEWS

Religious Education Registration

Spring has finally arrived and everyone is knee deep in baseball and gardening. We ask that you please take a moment and send in your registration for the 2013-2014 RE year before summer begins. If you did not receive a registration form or know someone who needs one, call the RE office. We encourage everyone to return his or her forms before the end of the school year to insure your choice of session time.

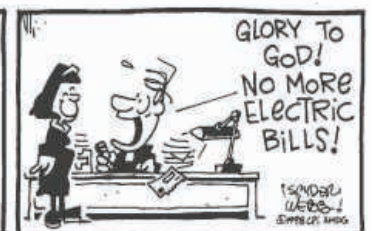

Please consider being a catechist.

Each year we lose some of our catechists due to job changes or maybe changes in ministry. This year is no different. Currently it looks like we will need catechists and/or aides in Grades 1, 3, and 4 at Session 1, grade 4, and possibly grade 5 or 6 (depending on enrollment) at Session 2. If you think God is calling you to help at any of those grade levels, please call the REO and we will talk more about it. Our children depend on you to pass on our faith.

Thank you to all who helped with our First Communion and Confirmation celebrations during April & May. All of the First Communion and Confirmation celebrations could not have taken place without the hard work of all of our catechists, office helpers, ministers, and musicians. You know who you are. You are much appreciated.

For more information on any of the above, please contact the REO, (630) 832-8962 or email at mqhmawoods@sbcglobal.net.
