Note from the Pastor

Come Back To Me

It seems to me the worst thing in the world is being completely isolated, totally alone, cut off. This Lent we choose for our theme, "Come Back to Me" in the hopes that we can reconnect with the Source of Life and with one another. This is utterly indispensable for true happiness and true life.

Right now there is a great debate going on over solitary confinement which cuts a person off completely from other human contact. Those who have experienced it say it is the worse kind of punishment. Many say it is cruel and unusual which makes it unconstitutional. Why? Because we are constituted to be connected. With God. With one another.

Last summer while taking the Metra from Chicago to Elmhurst, I was struck by the fact that in my car I was the only person who did not have their face buried in some type of screen. For the full distance of the ride there was absolutely no human commerce, even by members of the same family sitting next to one another.

In his poem God's Trombones poet James Weldon Johnson wrote about God creating the world and then the animals and then finally us and the tag line after each creative event was always the same, "I'm lonely still,"

*And God said, I'm lonely still
Then God sat down –
On the side of hill where He could think...
God thought and thought
Till he thought: I'll make me a man...
And there the great God Almighty...
Who rounded the earth in the middle of His hand;
This Great God
Like a mammy bending down over her baby,
Kneeled down in the dust
Toiling over a lump of clay
Till he shaped it in His own image;
Then into it He blew the breath of life
And a man became a living soul. Amen. Amen.*

Augustine said it best, "Our hearts are restless, O Lord, until we rest in Thee." We are made for something more and yet we continue to isolate ourselves away from all the relationships that make life worth living. We bought into the illusion that if we make enough, are self-sufficient enough, work hard enough, we can have it all. But all for what?

In a culture that worships individualism and personal choice, we lose track of the fact that we are social beings and from the moment of conception to the day of our death in need of each other. Author Anna Keating in an article in America Magazine quotes Benedict XVI, "As a spiritual being the human person is defined by interpersonal relations. The more authentically he or she lives these relations, the more his own personal identity matures. It is not by isolation that the people establish their worth, but by placing themselves in relation to others and with God."

She then goes on to quote Malcolm Gladwell's recent best-seller, Outliers. He tells the story of a little Italian Village in Roseto, Italy. In the 1800's they migrated to a town in Pennsylvania where they created a community and prospered. Physicians began to discover that while their diets were filled with fat and their lifestyle was just as sedentary as the rest of the American population, no one in the village suffered from heart disease. There was also no suicide or violent crime. Most lived long lives and died at an old age. There was nothing genetic that could explain this situation. It was finally concluded that it was the close-knit community that was the source of their good health. The extended family was still alive and well with great multi-generational relationships. There was respect for children and the elderly and on Sunday, everybody went to church. Obviously, good health is more than just diet and exercise. Relationships make all the difference in the world.

God seems to love relationships because God is a relationship between the Father, Son and Holy Spirit. And we, as His creatures, are invited into the dance of that relationship. As we are touched by the power of His Spirit, we are then propelled into wholesome relationships with each other. Obviously, given the fractured relationship that we have with one another and our God, we still have a lot to learn. But we learn by doing, by practice. That's what this season of Lent is all about. We practice by coming back to the Source of Life and then going forth to one another. It is still Lent, there is still time.

In Jesus, the Son of the Father, the Fullness of the Spirit,

Jr. Tony

A LENTEN EXERCISE

APRIL 11 AT 6:00 P.M. IN BARRETT HALL

The ministry of Peace and Justice is offering a Lenten Experience for all of our Mary Queen families. We invite everyone to join together on Friday, April 11 in Barrett Hall to share a simple pot luck supper of meatless soup, salad and bread. Dinner begins at 6:00 p.m. We will then move into church to pray the Stations of the Cross and go back to Barrett Hall afterwards to share a light desert and review a section of the movie A Place at the Table. This deals with the topic of hunger in America and programs that assist the hungry. A short discussion will follow and we will write letters to our legislators in support of increasing funding to some of these programs. Examples of letters will be available. This is a great way for children to learn social responsibility.

There will be a sign-up sheet in the back of church to register your family and what you can bring. Hope to see you there.

EUCCHARISTIC ADORATION

Saint Kateri, recently canonized native American saint, would arise early before the sun and wait for the church doors to open. Her day began with Eucharist and prayer. She would spend long hours on her knees in the cold chapel adoring Jesus hidden in the Sacrament of Love.

Our next day of Eucharistic Adoration is on April 7. The day of prayer begins after 8:30 a.m. Mass, and ends with Benediction at 7:00 p.m. We are always looking for people who would like to "adopt" an hour. Please call Kay Diggins, (630) 530-7214, or Rose Wilkes, (630)833-7238.
